

"The Parts Company Apart From the Rest!"

About US!

PacParts, Inc, formerly known as Pacific Coast Parts Distributors, is a consumer electronic parts distributor for car stereo, car stereo accessories, home audio/entertainment, home audio/entertainment accessories, computer accessories, iPod accessories, and much more. We are located in Southern California 12 miles south of downtown Los Angeles. The name was changed in August 2006 to reflect a more up-to-date image and commitment to the consumer electronics industry. PacParts also has a branch located in Portland, Oregon.

The Company was started in 1969 at the request of then, Litton Microwave Cooking Products. Today, Litton is no longer making microwave ovens, however our Consumer Electronic division soon became involved in a variety of household appliances. Since 1984 we have represented such leading manufacturers as Alpine, Clarion, Casio, Denon, Hitachi, Kenwood, Philips Lighting, Panasonic, Quasar, Sanyo Fisher, Technics, Monster Cable, Toshiba and more. We stock all original replacement parts for the manufacturers we represent.

PacParts is committed to providing prompt and efficient service and supplying our customers the parts and accessories they need, when they need them.

"Today, we must not rest on past great performance, but look for improvement and additional services that we can provide to both our Partners and our Customers. With this in mind, and the dedication of all our people, we take on the challenge to make our Company, The Parts Company Apart from the Rest".
